

NARSC Registration 2020

Dear Conference Participant – NARSC is delighted that you will be joining us in San Diego for the 2020 North American Meetings of the Regional Science Association International (RSAI). Every year, NARSC signs a contract with a hotel to serve as the venue for the conference. As part of the contract, NARSC promises to fill a certain number of room nights. If we fail to fill our contracted room block, NARSC must pay the full nightly cost of each unfilled room. This is the reason why we offer a discounted rate for conference participants who stay at the conference hotel. You can book your room at the conference hotel here.

Individuals who are members of RSAI, also receive discounted registration. This is one of the benefits of RSAI membership. If you are unsure about your RSAI membership status you can check it by looking at the RSAI Members List which can be found here.

You can register for the conference using our secure registration portal. To pay by check or bank transfer simply circle the appropriate fee and follow the instructions that are found at the bottom of the table. More information about the registration process can be found here.
