UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS URBANA-CHAMPAIGN

We are delighted to solicit papers again for our regular Regional/Rural Development sessions – this is our 35th anniversary! Past papers and session topics have included the following themes among others:

- Regional/rural labor and financial markets
- Regional/rural entrepreneurship, including links to urban and metropolitan markets
- Demographic evolutions in rural regions and implications for development
- Evolving issues in regional/rural development, such as health care and immigration
- Contributions of institutional structures to regional/rural development
- Regional/rural competitiveness, including measures of such competitiveness
- Cross-national/international experiences
- Public finance

To participate in the Regional/Rural Development Sessions: Presenters should enter their own paper's information via the regular NARSC submission portal (<https://narsc.mymeetingsavvy.net/login>). When your paper has been assigned its unique ID/P-code, please fill out this form (<https://forms.gle/Er5182q6oRXPkvyC7>) We will use this information to develop our sessions. The last day we can accept submissions for these special sessions is July 3. Note: our sessions almost always fill before the deadline!

In addition to this Call for Papers, we are also interested in hearing from colleagues who will not have a paper to present but would like to participate as a session chair and/or discussant. If you would like to participate in the 2023 sessions, please contact us.

With best wishes,

Tim, Sarah, and Stephan
