

Call for Submissions
Outreach in Regional Science Special Sessions
Sponsored by Reaching Regions
North American Meetings of the RSAI
Denver, CO
November 12-15, 2025

The editorial team of Reaching Regions is organizing special sessions focused on outreach in regional science.

We invite several types of submissions:

- 1) Submissions related to migration, for a session or sessions led by Co-Editor Emily Wornell.
- 2) Submissions of individual abstracts on a broader range of outreach topics.
- 3) Other organized themed sessions related to outreach.

All submissions should have policy-relevance to North American regions and be written and presented in non-technical language.

Submissions can include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Original descriptive analyses
- Non-technical summaries of published academic research
- Case studies with broader implications
- Research syntheses

If interested, please submit your abstract online on the NARSC submission portal (<http://www.narsc.org/newsite/conference/online-abstractsession-submission/>) and then email us the title, abstract, submission ID (e.g., P54321), author information, and contact details by July 9, 2025.

Outreach papers presented in the special sessions are invited to submit for possible publication in Reaching Regions, the new peer-reviewed, open access, outreach journal of NARSC. More information on Reaching Regions and submission instructions can be found on the journal website: <https://www.iastatedigitalpress.com/rreg/>

Please feel free reach out if you want to discuss the suitability of your submission or broader regional science outreach efforts.

Heather Stephens, West Virginia University (heather.stephens@mail.wvu.edu)

John Winters, Iowa State University (winters1@iastate.edu)

Emily Wornell, Ball State University (ejwornell@bsu.edu)